S. F. Welch, Mt. Pleasant: The first flag ever presented to a public school by a Post of the Grand Army was given to the High School of Mt. Pleasant on the celebration of Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22. It was given by McFarland Post, No. 20.

This original and appropriate method of reaching and arousing the children and youth of the country to a sense of loyalty, love and veneration for the flag, and respect for the men who lost or risked their lives in its defense is due to McFarland Post, and in an especial sense to the patriotic zeal, energy and quick appreciation of its able Commander, C. H. Smith. It is destined to work a revolution in the celebration of Washington's Birthday. It has so recommended itself to Department Commander Consigny that he issued a Circular heartily commending the proposed action of McFarland Post. the State. The following is the Circular: "The Department Commander observes that, in pursu-ance of General Order No. 13, these Headquarters, McFarland Post, No. 20, Mt. Pleasant, proposes to present a Union flag to the children of the public schools. This proposed action is most commenda-ble. No more appropriate feature could have been suggested as a part of the observance of Washington's Birthday. This good example of McFarland Post is commended to the Department. So long as this spirit continues to animate the hearts of the veterans, so long as such lessons shall be by them taught to the children, so long shall 'old glory' have a place in every school-house in Iowa; nor shall any timorous, small-souled school officer deem it safe to utter his cowardly protests. All bonor to McFarland Post, No. 20, Mt. Pleasant," Under the direction of Sup't Jackson the schoolrooms were made the center of patriotic ceremo-nies and surroundings, each being elaborately decked and draped with flags. National and patri-otic songs were sung in concert, and the orations rooms were made the center of patriotic ceremonies and surroundings, each being elaborately decided and draped with flags. Army of the Republic under such flattering aus- Crosby. pices as has marked Congressman Samuel J. Randall's introduction into it. To Pennsylvanians, at least, Mr. Randall is revered for his friendliness to the needy soldier. His political career is well known, and his honesty is unquestioned. Notwithstanding this I doubt very much whether such flattering efforts should have been made to muster him. I recognize the fact that be and Commander-in-Chief Warner are Congressmen, and well, if not familiarly, acquainted, and that Mr. Randall finds it impossible to leave Washington for the purpose of bemustered into a Post of the Department of the Potomac without the slightest inconvenience some time during that period. However, I am glad to see him in the Order; but never the less, I do not like the pomp and manner in which he has been made a full-fledged member. It would appear that the Order or the Post was exceedingly desirous of having his companionship. How this will apply to the Post I cannot say, but I am sure that the Order is not holding out inducements General Orders, No. 1, issued at Camden Feb. 21, for any particular person to join. The Commander in cutering upon his newly acquired and important duties is impressed with the responsibility of the great trust which his fire last week, which, as usual, was made a success Post No. 19, Philadelphia, had a rousing Campcomrades of the Department have confided to his care. Realizing this as well as the fact that without their co-operation and assistance his individual efforts can accomplish but little, he would at this its refurnished quarters on last Thursday, and the occasion was marked by an immense congregation of people. A Campfire was kindled, and Past De-partment Commander John M. Vanderslice, who, by the by, is an ex-cavalryman himself, made the dedicatory address. The new Adjutant, Comrade McCormick, had a word of encouragement for the Post also. The old quarters of the Post were destroyed by fire in December last, but now the Post can honestly boast of having one of the finest rooms in the State. The sense of the recent Department Encampment on the question of the Soldiers' Orphans' Schools of this State is contained in the following Resolved, That it is the sense of this Encampment that the care and maintenance of the sol-diers' orphans in the schools be continued by the State until the children have arrived at the age of 16 years, as originally contemplated.

Resolved. That a committee of five comrades be appointed by the Department Commander to confer with similar committees to be appointed from the Senate and House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, who shall be charged with the duty of framing a proper bill for such purpose.

In compliance with this, Department Commander Stewart has appointed the following comrades on the committee: Frank J. Magee, Past Department Committee: on the committee: Frank J. Magee, Past Department Commander, Wrightsville; A. C. Reinochl, Post 84, Lancaster; Moses Veale, Post No. 2, Philadelphia; Thomas G. Sample, Post No. 128, Allegheny; C. C. Shirk, Post No. 67, Erie. The committee will meet at Department Headquarters, Philadelphia, at 11 a. m. Friday, March 8, and on the following day will confer with the committee from the State Senate.

The new ritual is not meeting with favor among the Posts of this Department, and at the next National Encampment a resolution will be presented by our representatives asking that it be replaced by the old one. The new one is said to be too lengthy and too difficult to commit to memory. Confederate Gen. Rosser was scored by Gen. Gobin last week at a Campfire given in Philadelphia by Post No. 160. Not only was the mouth-fighting General of the Lost Cause (or, better still, "The Never Had a Chance Cause,") handled with-out gloves, but after Gen. Gobin had finished, it appeared as if he had been rubbed into the mire of enandoah Valley once again. A reception and hop will be given by Gen. Rob-ert Patterson Post, No. 275, in Natatorium Hall, Philadelphia, on April 23, for the purpose of securing money for the Post charity fund. DEAR TRIBUNE: The sixth annual Convention, Department of New York, held at Binghamton, Feb. 20, 21, 22. Convention sessions in the Courthouse, through kindness of Sheriff Stone; flowers and flags everywhere. The Department President and staff were present at the opening of Department Encampment and occupied seats on the platform. Convention roll-call found nearly every Corps represented, while a large number of visit-ors were in attendance. Reports were read, and Sarah C. Nichols, Past Department President; Kate E. Jones, National Chaplain, and Emma J. Carpenter, Department Secretary, were appointed to convey the compliments of the Convention, in the well, Wm. McGiveny, Fred'k Shoffer and Harry shape of a basket of beautiful flowers, to the Encampment.

At the opening of the evening session the ladies presented themselves to the Encampment, and Mrs. Jones, in her usual happy rhyme, presented the flowers, and was received with great applause. DEPARTMENT CONVENTION OF VERMONT. DEAR TRIBUNE; Although Vermont has been ellent for so long a time, she is still alive, as was proved last week. Department Encampment and Convention convened in Brattleboro, bringing in about 600 visitors, making the largest and best Con-vention ever held. The reports of Department officers were exceptionally fine, it being remarked by several comrades present by invitation: will give a dollar for those reports in print." De-partment President and S. V.-P. Leonora W. Howe and Janette P. Blackmer were re-elected; nine Corps organized during the year, making total number 50; membership of about 1,760; expended in charity, $755.14; soldiers and their families assisted, 298. Convention was honored by visits from Commander-in-Chief Warner; Col. Linehan, Past Department Commander of New Hampshire; Maj. Evans, Inspector-General, G.A.R., of Mass.; Gen Thomas, and McGetterick, of Vermont.-Josie G. Herrick, Department Corresponding Secretary, C, A, H, Thompson, St. Johnsbury, writes that Vermont Convention voted to give their Columbus Souvenir Marker to the Vermont Soldiers' Home. A resolution was adopted pledging the W.R.C. to do all in its power toward placing such histories in the public schools as shall teach the children the difference between treason and loyalty. A letter from Past National President Emma S. Hampton, inclosing photograph, was read with appliause. Sedgwick Corps was generous in hospitality, and served dinner and supper at the hail.

XI. It is with no small degree of satisfaction that the announcement is made to the Order that within the last month the consolidation of the Post System of Sons of Veterans with the Camp System, or the Sons of Veterans, U. S. A., has been accom-plished. For seven years and over those organiza-tions have been independent of each other, each striving for supremacy and the favor of the Grand Army of the Republic. This granter is Army of the Republic. This warfare is now ended, and for the first time all organized Sons of Veter-ans are united under one banner and in one Order, increasing our membership by over 6,000. This has been accomplished through the dictation of the official committee of the Grand Army of the Rapublic, appointed upon the relations of the Sons of Veterans, by order of the 22d National Encamp-ment of the G.A.R. In this consolidation, while each organization is compelled to surrender features dear to each, the surrender is not made to the opposition, but to the Grand Army of the Republic, represented by a committee honorable and impartial. The Conneil-in-Chief empowered the Commander-in-Chief to proceed in submitting these questions, and to abide by the decision of

XII. Hereafter all Camps must be attached to some Division. National Headquarters are so incumbered by the regular business of the Com-mandery-in-Chief that it cannot care for the Camps-at-large; therefore, all Camps in the State of Ore-gon and Territories of Washington and Idaho shall be under the jurisdiction of the Commander of the Division of Montana. XIV. The Commander-in-Chief wishes to express his appreciation of the almost unanimous esponse of the Camps of the Order in celebrating the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. The observance was more general than was anticipated, and stamps our Order as one composed of young Americans who propose to be leaders in loyalty and patriotism. This last exhibition of our rinciples has brought favorable comment from all uarters, especially the G.A.R., which in many instances lent material assistance. It is to be hoped that the observance of this day will in future become a permanent feature of the Order.

A Martha Washington Tea was held at Pittsburg were especially nicely arranged and were loaded down with silver and antique china-some of it almost as old as the event they celebrated. The decorations were neat and were made up entirely of the National colors, with the exception of a screen of palms, behind which was located Gerneri & Guenther's orchestra. At one end of the hall, fes-tooned on either side with the guidons of the Or-der, was a portrait in oil of Maj. A. P. Davis, the founder of the Order of Sons of Veterans. The central figure of the evening was Mrs. Maj. Davis, who had charge of the affair, and to whose management its marked success was due. About $300 was raised, which will be devoted to charity.
